

ARTHUR Jafa: THE WHITE ALBUM, ENGLISH CAPTIONS

00:00:44

Love, make me clean

Love, touch me, cure me.

The pure always act from love

The Damned always act from love

Hm hm

Every day I think about untwisting and untangling

these strings I'm in

And to lead a pure life

I look ahead at a clear sky

Ain't gonna get there

But it's a nice dream, it's a nice dream.

Death make me brave

Death leave me swinging

The pure always act from love

The damned always act from love

The truth is an act of love

Someday, I swear, we're gonna go to a place where we can do everything we want to

And we can pet the crocodiles

Love

The pure always act from love

The damned always act from love

That's love

The pure always act from love

That's love

The pure and the damned

The pure and the damned

Love

The damned

Well, it's me. I'm back again here to talk about fear, pride, arrogance, narcissism, all that good stuff.

So what is it that stops so many white people from wanting to change their hearts in regards to race? And wanting to see the reality and come out of denial? What is it that keeps us stuck right there, in that comfortable position of untruth?

Well, I think part of it is fear, another part of it is greed, greed in that. We don't want to lose dominance, we don't want to lose power, we don't want to lose privileges. We don't want to lose benefits that the system of white supremacy has created here in America for white people. We don't want to lose none of it.

We're scared, we're scared of Black retribution, we're scared of Black vengeance.

We're scared, shitless, and we always have been since day one. We put our hands on Black people, grabbed them, snatched them up, put them on a boat and made them our own fucking personal slaves and assistants for no pay.

We did all that. You're goddamn right. We're scared, We're scared of losing what we got, We're scared of losing our positions, and we're scared of retribution. So we got a lot of fucking fear. Man, yeah, we do, you hear me, white brothers and sisters.

A lot of fucking fear. We're scared, we always have been. You see a black man walking down the street, you lock your doors, you check to make sure he ain't gonna hurt you, you clutch your purse. We're scared.

So what we do? Lock him up, throw him in jail. The world's largest prison population of Black folks right now is right here. In this fucking country, we don't know why, we're fucking scared.

Even the fucking police officers, the coward police officers that kill unarmed Black people are scared, we're scared of that retribution, scared of that Black vengeance. Then we project, then we pretend and project that Black people are as racist as white people. Who the fuck ever taught a Black person black supremacy? The first thing a fucking Black person learns is why it's wrong to be a supremacist.

They deal with that shit their whole fucking life. Why the fuck would they want to act supreme? I ain't never heard a Black person go around acting superior because of the color of their skin. If anything, they do the opposite.

It's white people that are taught I ain't saying Black people can't hate. I ain't saying Black people can't be angry. But hell, if they do hate, it's a hate that hate produces. It's an anger that anger produces. From white supremacy, a culture and a system of white supremacy. So yeah, Black people are angry, some of them, not all of them, some of them.

The point is, face your fear, face your greed. So that we can fucking have a more peaceful country, a more peaceful world. Until white people face that greed that they have. Oh, oh, I gotta be on top, I gotta keep my white privilege.

Oh God, I'm scared that the Black people gonna kill me, they gonna come get me, they gonna snatch me up. The way we did them. They gonna do all that dirty shit to me that white people have done to them.

Stop being so fucking scared, man, man up, woman up. Let's face reality. White supremacy is real. Our country is a country of white fucking supremacy.

Yes, sir, it is. It always has been. Let's face it, let's do something about it.

Let's take some fucking responsibility, act up, speak up, vote, do what you gotta do, be active, protest, get in the fucking streets.

White people have to change their fucking culture of white supremacy, if we don't,.

It will destroy us all, and it already is all of us.
Has to do with morality.

This thing about getting out of denial, one, you gotta acknowledge the truth. We are a white supremacist nation, and we always have been. we have white supremacist institutions. Culture. Structures power. Psychology, everything, politics, whitewashing is in everything, the media, education.

History is whitewashed and biased, education is whitewashed and biased, entertainment is whitewashed and biased. I ain't saying Black people are bad, we're all equal.

We know this. Stop being defensive, stop being judgmental, stop being defensive, stop being delusional, get out of denial and face reality. Our culture is racist, our white culture is racist. I ain't saying all white people are racist.

I'm not saying that, but it's all that indifference, it's all that inaction, it's all that turning a blind fucking eye. That's the real fucking problem. Step up, get out of indifference, do something, say something.

Let's take our white America back. I love America and I love white America. let's take it fucking back.

Let's be proud of ourselves. I'm not proud of white America anymore. I used to be, I used to be a fucking racist. I'm not proud of America anymore.

Face your fear and face your greed, once and for all. Take your fucking country back to what it should be, which means it's made for all people, not just white people.

Bye.

00:12:13

Fuck it, I eat meat for the dick fight, Hurricane Maria for the dick Ride, a muscle punk career for the dick. Hey, let him call me a hoe for the dick, Baby Daddy number four for the dick.

I bleach my skin for the pussy, fuck a Siamese twins for the pussy, salute the flag for the pussy, fuck a bitch on a ride for the pussy.

00:13:06

I'm going to talk about a very touchy subject right now. I debated doing this because I know this is something that most people try to avoid talking about this type of subject. But I feel the need to say something about it. It is driving me up the wall, it's something that bugs me.

It's just to a point now that it's just ridiculous. I just need to talk about it. Let me start by saying that I am the farthest person from being racist.

When I was younger, from the time I can remember until I was about 12 years old. If you had put me in a circle with a bunch of Black people, I would not have noticed. I would not have noticed that I was the odd one out, I would not have noticed any difference, I would not have felt uncomfortable.

I would not have felt anything, I would have had no problem walking up to them and just being, Hey, what's up, how's it going? No problem. I would have seen no difference whatsoever.

I am not racist, I will never be. I have no problem with that. I am the most chill person you'll ever meet. It takes a lot.

I complain about a lot on here because there are things that bother me. But it's just mentally like, Hey, it bothers me. But I'm not really going to do anything because I'm chill. I really don't care that much, it's just things that bother me internally or whatever, but I just, but anyway,.

I think that white people have the hardest time nowadays because we try so hard. The majority of us try so hard to make sure that we don't say anything racist. We treat them with respect, we make sure that they're okay and they feel part of everything. But then white people have the double standard. I mean, Black people have. The double standard with white people is that they can say whatever they want to, or Mexicans or Chinese.

I mean, it's just white people come down to it. We're looked at as being very. And I know why, I know where it comes from. But think about it now. I know there is racism, but think about now how many of us are actually racist towards you?

I've had best friends who were Hispanic and Black people or whatever.

I've had best friends and been family with or whatever who are all different races. I cannot stress enough that I do not care, I have no problem whatsoever. What color skin you are? I do not care, I do not care.

But it just makes me so mad how Mexicans or whatever can make smart jokes or whatever about how we used to get our butt whooped.

When we were younger, white people would just go sit in the corner. That's not how it worked for me, and that is something that I could never talk about because I'd come off racist. I can't talk about that or whatever.

But I used to get whooped too, I used to have it hard, too. It's just why can't you guys talk about it and have every right to say everything? And we're supposed to feel so guilty, but we can't talk about it.

It makes me so mad. It's just it's ridiculous, it's not fair. I know life isn't fair.

Go on a huge thing about how life isn't fair, but it's just not. I have no problem not saying anything racist to people, that's not the issue, but have the same respect for white people, okay?

It's not cool at all

00:17:17

You want to argue? I can't argue with you.

Naaaaww.

You mad.

Look at you.

You mad.

You been mad.

I'm happy.

Leave me alone.

I just want some money.

Some part of money.

I don't get paid to argue with you.

No, who are you?

You ain't nobody.

You mad.

You mad.

00:24:09

Saniia. Your feelings Saniia the s because she's sexy, the i you're intriguing, the n because you're naughty. The I because she's innocent. The I is always serving Saniia, Saniia.

Saniia.

Saniia.

Niia.

Niia.

Niia.

What you think court?

Anybody else can jump, please.

00:24:57

N*, N*, N*, N*!

N*.

Fuck you.

N*.

N*.

Fuck you. I hate you.

N*.

N*.

00:25:58

Sir can you please tell us what happened?

I'm in a room chilling, kicking like I usually do, drinking, then someone shot me right through my back window and hit me in the chest. And I'm like shit get my son out of the room. And I'm not tripping for no reason, you know, these petty wars, I ain't tripping tho. Absolutely, so you did show me on your chest where you were shot. Are we able to see it right now?

Yeah y'all can see it.

Okay so what do you, do you know what happened? Do you know who and why they've done this?

I don't know what's going on, man, I just know n*s probably just want me dead, want some other stuff, I don't know.

All right, well, I'm here. And what's your name?

I'm Devon

00:26:34

You're trash bro.

Is them tears bro, come on, bro, we got to get you together, boy, oh!

The interception? I wasn't even playing, I was wiping your tears off, bro, I was wiping your bro.

Bro, where you going? Bro? Where you going bro, Bro, you're trash bro, bro. come on bro, come on bro.

What is it? It doesn't matter. He's just messing with you!

00:27:18

Hey y'all.

Someone just told me to stop acting black in my comments. Honey, the last thing I am is black, honey, I'm white. Look at my face, Hon.

I'm white.

White. I need to restraighten that piece. But I'm white.

And I want to know how to fuck you out of color, like, Oh, you wake up one day and be like, Hmm, let's see, I'm going to be purple. No, you can't act a color, you can be a color, but you can't act a color.

00:29:10

Mr Simpson, I do vote to grant parole when eligible, and that will conclude this hearing.

Thank you, thank you, my White Princess. thank you.

I'm so happy I could stab somebody.

Thank you n* over there in the corner. Thank you Black n* that didn't believe in me. Yes, yes, oh, my back hurts all them dicks I took in prison, Lord I, I, yes, yes, woo.

It's over, White lady, I'd fuck you, but you not my type. I feel like I stabbed myself. Uh, n* legend, I'm throwing a stabbing party tomorrow night at the crib.

Call me you on the guest list, hide your kids, hide your wives, hide your husbands, and and fuck you Jay -z.
